

"C&G Advertising Is A Great Fit!"

"We truly enjoy the partnership that our company has with your publication. From the advertorials, the interviews that C&G has conducted with our company regarding home improvement, to your tireless efforts to inform us of upcoming advertising specials, our money has been well spent with your publication.

C&G is a great fit for us. We are a local company and your varied circulation serves our targeted areas. Your publication is well read by educated consumers that have an interest in staying informed within their own communities. Our return on investment continues to prove this.

In a time where many of the larger papers are losing subscribers, it is a good feeling to know where we can place our advertising dollars to see the best possible return. Keep up the great work!"
